

Funds management seminar—your invitation

The regulatory environment for the funds management industry changes regularly but recently the Federal Government and ASIC have announced reforms that will have a significant impact on the sector. In this session we will provide you with insights into these reforms and share with you our views on the threats and opportunities for the sector in 2011 and beyond.

Details

This seminar will cover the following:

- Legislative reform—the new short product disclosure statement regulations, insolvency issues with managed investment schemes, the future of financial advice and Australia as a financial services hub.
- Tax reform—update on proposed reforms to taxation of funds which will apply from 1 July 2011, including new ways for determining taxation liabilities of investors, impacts on trustees and investment managers and issues regarding fund documentation.
- ASIC activity—increasing financial requirements for responsible entities, a focus on disclosure to retail investors, related party transactions and enforcement activity.
- Launching or defending a hostile bid to remove a responsible entity.
- Current trends in products and fund structures.
